GEOG 3750 – Geography of Sub-Saharan Africa deals with the geographical and cultural diversity of Sub-Saharan Africa and the associated problems and prospects for economic development. It examines the opportunities, constraints and dilemmas of Sub-Saharan Africa’s diverse physical and cultural landscapes, contemporary problems such as ethnic conflict and environmental pollution, and the challenge and prospect of globalization and culture change.