1) Describe the sample used in this study.

2) Describe the target population.

3) Describe the interpretations of these results.

4) Evaluate the representativeness of the sample in relation to the population. How does this affect the validity of the interpretations?